

Summary

Langdano

By Staffan Fridell

In Ljungby parish (Sunnerbo district, Småland), there is a farm with the strange name Langdano, which in its present form has almost an Italian ring to it. The name is probably formed from the dialectal adverb långdan av (pronounced langdan å), which means ‘far away’, referring to the remote location of the site. Another, though less likely, possibility is that this is a prepositional name Långdan å ‘far from the river’.
