Summary

NORNA in the rear-view mirror

A personal recollection of the early days

By Thorsten Andersson

The Nordic Cooperative Committee for Onomastic Research, NORNA, held its inaugural meeting in Copenhagen in December 1971. The members of the first committee had been elected at the Sixth Nordic Congress of Onomastics in Helsingør in August of the same year. In this article, the author, who was NORNA's first chairman, offers a personal recollection of the early days of the Committee.
